About the Gallery

For anyone interested in top-notch contemporary art, award-winning modern architecture or breathtaking views of Charlottesville, Les Yeux du Monde (the Eyes of the World) gallery is not to be missed. Founded in 1995 by Art History Ph.D. Lyn Bolen Warren, the gallery maintains a rich and varied inventory of work by important national and regional artists while rotating solo shows of these gallery artists with exhibitions of modern masters such as Warhol, Basquiat and Picasso.

The gallery's mission is not only to help clients create important collections, but also to educate and inspire by offering a wide range of gallery talks, studio classes, lunches with artists and visits to museums, studios and important collections.

The gallery space is also available for special events.
